Project C

Photographer’s webpage

For this project, you will create a Photographer’s webpage. The main target for this endeavour is to show the portfolio and make an easy and effective contact page for the customer to contact the Photographer.

The webpage should have:

Navbar

You can choose what kind of navbar you want to use.

Landing image

How to use the Hero’s image section is up to you. Be impactant though.

Portfolio

That’s the main section in the webpage. Try to find the best way to show customers the Photographers work. The pictures attached to the project can be used to this section. Be creative, remember that a Photographer work doesn't necessarily follow only one theme.

Awards(Optional)

Has the Photographer any awards or certificates? Essential to be displayed.

Bio/About

Bio/About page, apart from the portfolio, the bio could help to keep the interest of the customer, empathy is a powerful weapon.

Testimonials

The best way to conquer somebody's trust, the opinion of a third person...

Customers

If the Photographer has ever made any job for en Enterprise, it should be shown too.

Contact/Register

Create a contact page to connect customers and Photographer.

Media

Very important to have icons to social media. (Please note that the icons wont have any link).

Requirements: Website must be fully responsive (you are allowed to use 100% free theme elements if they are without any copyrighted restrictions and of course you must implement them in combination with your styles - using just prepared theme without your styles is not allowed). You are allowed to divide the page into sections, but it must have at least 3 more independent pages apart from the index page. The example below can be taken as an inspiration but we encourage you to create your own style.

I'm Colin, a professional photographer from England living and working in Vienna, Austria.
My photo studio is in the 7th district and I work mainly as a fine-art photographer, wedding photographer, and pre-wedding photographer.

I love to work with every day people and I know which lighting and poses to use to bring out their best ideas.
Many of my clients have never had a photoshoot with a professional photographer before, but they all go home with beautiful photos.

GREAT PHOTOS, HAPPY CLIENTS

Colin is such a talented pro-photographer. I highly recommend him!

I was born and raised in England and studied for my bachelor and doctorate degrees at Imperial College, London. In 2008, I setup my photo studio in the heart of Vienna and since then, I have had many exhibitions and my photos have won many awards.

My wife, Ida, is also a very talented photographer and will often accompany me as a second photographer for weddings or as my assistant during studio shoots. Along with artistic photoshoots, I can also be booked as a wedding photographer or a portrait photographer and I can work with English- and German-speaking clients (Ida also speaks fluent Chinese if necessary).
